DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I (claims 1-18) in the reply filed on 08/29/05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kubota et al. (6,270,393).

Kubota et al. meets all of the limitations of claims 1, 7 and 13, i.e., a polishing fluid/method for CMP process comprising a surfactant having aliphatic structure (component d); a buffer adjuster (potassium hydroxide and sodium hydroxide), and a chelating agent (component c), except for disclosing keeping the pH between 5 and 14. Kubota et al. is silent regarding the preferred range of the pH for the slurry, even though the solution appears to be alkaline which would anticipate the claims for having a pH higher than 7, however, it is noted that setting the pH of the solution, i.e., the acidity or alkalinity of the solution, at a particular value, e.g., 7 depends on the workpiece/operational parameters obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Regarding claims 2-5, 6-12 and 14-18, Kubota et al. as modified above, meets the limitations, i.e., surfactant, e.g., polyethylene glycol in an amount of from 0.1% to 10 by weight which is considered to meet the limitation as recited, however, choosing a particular amount of the surfactant, e.g., 2 vol. % in enhancing the operation, would have be within the knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art depending on the workpiece and/or operational parameters; chelating agent, e.g., EDTA in an amount of, e.g., 1% wt. (within the range specified 01 to 3%), regarding claim 17, the intended use, narrative language and/or limitations given to the workpiece do not further limit the method, however, Kubota et al. meets the language, e.g., semiconductor integrated circuit.

Conclusion

4. Prior art made of record and not relied upon are considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Chaneyalew et al. and McClain et al. are cited to show related inventions.
